VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

The Barkerville School Suit.

FOURTH LETTER—CONCLUDED.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

Now, was the adjournment of the Stirling case to Clinton necessary or in the interest of either side? One reason given for the adjournment was that there were certain "legal points" involved in the suit upon which the court "would like to hear argument." These points were in relation to the power of trustees under the School Act; but as the defendants were sued as individuals and not as trustees, the ordinary lay mind would be inclined to think that all that was necessary was to decide whether or not the evidence submitted by the plaintiff proved that the defendants had done anything to make themselves personally responsible for the alleged debt. There was no call for any legal hair-splitting in order to decide that point. Against two of us there was not a little of evidence of any legal value, and against the other two the evidence was almost equally negative. Hence the defendants feeling that they were in no way legally or morally bound to employ a lawyer for the mere detectation of the court decided to await the promised judgment. As things stand now, however, this determination of ours would seem to have been unfortunate; but whether or not it was resented by the court, it is not for me to say. As the plaintiff was leaving the province at all events, he made it convenient to be present at the sitting of court at Clinton, and becoming dazzled by the effulgence shed by a bright legal luminary from the banks of the Fraser, application was made to get Mr. Wilson's evidence taken, and the court instead of indignantly resenting the implied insult to its integrity, fell into the trap, and the result was the famous "order" quoted above. Of course the defendants protested against the order on the following grounds, in summarizing which I will have sufficiently commented upon the order itself: That considering the conditions of the adjournment it was beyond the power of the court to issue an order reopening the case for further evidence; that the adjournment to Clinton was not indefinite, or on general grounds, but for a specifically defined purpose. The hearing of argument on certain "legal points" and the rendering of judgment; that it was a breach of faith with the defendants even to allow "application" to be made for the taking of new evidence much more to issue the "order" complained of; that the date of the order (4th Oct.) was not the date of the sitting of court, (although as stated) and hence that the order was of no effect; that the order was unfair and partial in as much as although professedly giving to both parties the right to "prove the writings or documents referred to in the evidence," since the defendants had put in no "writings or documents" they therefore had none "to prove;" that it was unfair also in giving to the plaintiff the right to examine Mr. Wilson viva voce without at the same time permitting a like examination of new witnesses for the defence (we had stated in court that we had other witnesses to be examined while the plaintiff had not claimed Mr. Wilson as "a witness on his behalf"); that the order required notice of Mr. Wilson's examination to be given to the defendant's by the "plaintiff's solicitor"—a requirement with which the notice endorsed on the order did not comply (and hence we could not know with whom to communicate in any further proceedings, the plaintiff himself having left the province). We also protested against the costs of the "application and all proceedings thereunder being made costs in the cause"—a most glaring injustice to the defendants. (See section 3 order XXXVII of the Rules of Court then in force.) Why forsooth should the defendants be put to expense by the plaintiff's illegal effort to remedy a stupid blunder of his own? Why, if the court could in this way order that Mr. Wilson should become a witness for the plaintiff, should it not in the interests of justice have ordered that he be made a co-defendant in the suit? Surely that would have been the wiser and juster thing to do. The defendants while in no way assenting to the legality of the "order," gave notice that if notwithstanding their protest any affidavits were taken and filed they would on being presented with a list thereof (in accordance with section 2, order XXXVI. Rules of Court) if they deemed it necessary apply for an order requiring the attendance of such witness or witnesses at Richfield for cross-examination. But in defiance of the requirements of the Rule just quoted, they were in no way informed of the filing of the affidavit at Clinton (why should it have been ordered to be filed there and not here?) nor were they aware of any affidavit having been taken until within a few days of the rendering of judgment at Richfield this summer. If such is the course of British justice let us have some of the Comanche pattern! Query—If the case was adjourned to Clinton for the rendering of judgment and there is no record of and in point of fact no re-adjournment of the case back to Richfield, was the judgment rendered by the court at Richfield, on the 18th July last, a legal judgment? Query second—If there is no record (and there is none) in the books of the Court Registrar at Clinton of this case ever having been there, was it ever legally there at all?

I have said enough on the course of this remarkable case to prove that it is (as I hope it is) entirely without precedent in the annals of British Columbia Courts of Law. A few words more and I have done. The examination of Mr. Wilson under the "order" was appointed for the 21st November last. It did not take place then, and up at all events to the 26th December Mr. Wilson was not aware that any adjournment had been granted. Now, was the adjournment legally granted without the witness to be examined having been notified to attend? For I believe it is the fact that up to the said 26th of December Mr. Wilson had not received any notice to attend even the inquisition of 21st November! His examination, however, took place on 15th January and yet the affidavit then taken was not filed at Clinton as required until last spring. Solely then on the strength of this affidavit, as the court stated, judgment was given against Messrs. Nason and Pendola at Richfield on the 18th July. Mr. Pendola was not present, but although Mr. Nason in taking exception to Mr. Wilson's affidavit, asked to be allowed to give his own rebutting testimony, the judge curtly refused permission, nor would he deduct from the judgment the amount collected by the plaintiff since the trial last year. Mr. Pendola having been informed of the judgment, telegraphed his wish to appeal, and four days after judgment (on 22nd July) notice of their intention to appeal was given verbally, (the act does not require it in writing), to the Registrar of the Court at his office at Richfield. By arrangements with him, however, the notice was afterwards handed to him in writing, with the grounds of appeal specified; but according to the reckoning of the Judge, a day too late. The act requires that this notice of appeal should be given to "the other party or his solicitor;" but in this case the "other party" was non est inventus, and we had never been certainly informed that he had a solicitor authorized to act for him. Up to date, then, nothing further has been done, and it is still doubtful which side is going to win.

I must thank you, Mr. Editor, for the space allowed me in reviewing this case. I ought to add that I have never had any desire to prevent the plaintiff from getting all to which under a fair consideration of all the circumstances he was justly entitled; and if the proceedings of court had been perfectly regular throughout—if the present conclusion had been reached by legitimate process of law, there would have been no necessity for the writing of these letters. I remain respectfully yours. H. WATT, M. D.

Barkerville, 17th Sept., 1885.

P. S.—Having made no statement of fact in these letters but what I am able to fully substantiate, I shall not feel myself bound to notice any anonymous writer who may essay a reply.

Just before mailing this letter I learn that a Mr. McColl, of New Westminster, has applied for execution to be issued against Mr. Pendola alone. Rather hard that if it is allowed to be levied; but it is to be hoped the Superior Court will yet have an opportunity of reviewing the proceedings of this inferior one. H. W.

[ED. NOTE.—Dr. Watt requests us to correct an important typographical error towards the end of his first letter, where an N has been substituted for an M, making the name Nason instead of Mason. Mr. Mason and Mr. Munro were the subscribers there spoken of.]

OUR RESOURCES.

Captain N. H. Chittenden has been interviewed by the Toronto Globe, to whom he gave the following information:

"What is your opinion of the timber resources of British Columbia?" asked the reporter.

"There is timber enough in the Rocky Mountains accessible from the Canadian Pacific Railway," was the reply "to build a house on every quarter section of land in the Northwest, and supply the territories with timber for a thousand years, in spite of the enormous quantities destroyed by forest fires. Cedar, spruce, fir, and pine are the principal varieties. I want to say another thing here, and that is that the Canadians own on this continent, stretching all the way from Winnipeg to Fort McLeod. These beautiful flowers cover not only the prairie, but the lower slopes of the mountains, and I may mention that between Kicking Horse Lake and the first crossing of the Columbia river, I rode in company with Professor Macoun, the eminent botanist. He told me that he had found 600 species of flowering plants and shrubs in the Rocky Mountain region alone, and that numbers of these are unknown in any other country."

"The country, I suppose, is only sparsely settled?"

"So sparsely that the entire white population of the region between Barrard Inlet and Farwell probably does not exceed four thousand."

"You have already spoken of the capabilities of the country for grazing."

"Yes, and I speak just as favorably of the whole Northwest. I have traversed the best pasture regions of North America, including Texas, Arizona, Idaho, California, and Washington Territory, and I have never seen grazing land equal to that which lies between Winnipeg and the Rockies. There is no desert on the line of the C. P. R. west of Winnipeg. I did not see five miles of worthless prairie country on the entire line."

"Do you think that British Columbia will import much grain from the Northwest?"

"I think that British Columbia herself can furnish grain enough to feed at least ten times her present population."

After summing up all the advantages of the country, its present climate, splendid fisheries, abundant timber, rich coal mines, gold, good agricultural and grazing land, Captain Chittenden closed his account of British Columbia by expressing his opinion that it was just the place for a man of pluck and enterprise to settle in.

FROM ALASKA.

The Outgoing and Incoming Governors—Gold Product.

Mr. W. G. Wilson, a passenger from Alaska on the last steamer, says that the retirement of Governor Kinkaid and staff was greatly regretted by the people of the Territory, as during his short administration he had made a most favorable impression. The reception, therefore, tendered Governor Swineford and staff, was not as warm as it might otherwise have been. The Idaho brought about $41,000 in bullion, the result of fifteen days run of the Treadwell mill. The phenomenal success of the Treadwell mine has stimulated prospecting in Alaska, and a boom is expected next spring. It is the hardest country in the world to prospect in, owing to the shortness of the season and the great physical obstacles to be encountered. Only those who have experience, energy, and are endowed with physical and mental strength, should search for hidden treasure in Alaska. It is thought, however, that the country is one of immense deposits of the precious metals will yet be made there, as all the geological indications are favorable. With the limited knowledge already required, it is probable the extent of the mo veins of Douglas Island properties will aggregate in value twice the amount heward paid for the whole of Alaska.

Gold Product Decreasing

It is shown, owing to the decrease in California hydraulic gold mining, the output of California in 1885 will be decreased four millions. Over twenty thousand men in mines have been thrown out of employment. The increased activity in quartz mining has compensated to a great extent for the compulsory abandonment of hydraulic. The new process of diverting rivers from the beds is meeting with much success.

From R. H. Lewis, complaining of the condition of the streets leading to his property, Work estate, and the nuisance caused by apple trees growing thereon. Referred to the Street Committee to report.

From E. Johnson, City Barrister, respecting Honorable Mr. Hamley's building, giving it as his opinion that that gentleman was bound by the by-law, and that the building was an infraction thereof. Referred to the Fire Wardens to report at next meeting.

From Richard Jones, Inspector of Weights and Measures, stating that he had examined and corrected the scales, and suggesting that steps be taken to protect the scales by a movable cover. Referred to the City Hall Committee to report.

From S. H. Homes, asking for permission to use a portion of Johnson street while building. Granted.

From W. Bond, asking for permission to use part of Government street while removing the Chinese church, or Joss House. Request refused, the building not being worth $250, as required by the by-law.

From Pendray & Co., asking for the removal of the rock on Humboldt street. Referred to the Street Committee.

From S. Gray, asking permission to use street while making drain. Granted.

From W. S. Wraite, asking for the use of Bastion and Wharf streets for building purposes. Granted.

Accounts incurred by the returning officer in taking the vote on the bonus by-laws, amounting to $75.50, were read. Referred to Finance Committee for payment, if found correct.

MOTION.

Councillor Ward moved the motion, of which he had given notice, that all real estate taxes remaining unpaid on and after 31st October next, and be chargeable with, interest at the rate of one per cent per month until paid. Seconded and carried.

REPORTS.

From the City Engineer, reporting that the plan and specifications for the floating stage, or public landing, foot of Yates street, was now ready, and enclosing estimate of costs. Referred to Street Committee, with power to act.

From the Police Committee, recommending that Officer Sheppard be paid $50 for his extra services as acting sergeant, that Sergt. Flewin be relieved of his sanitary duties; and that the police force be increased by three men in consequence of the large number of strangers now in the city. On motion the report was adopted.

SALOONS OPEN AT NIGHT.

Councillor McKillican said the police met with great obstacles in enforcing the law by the saloons being kept open all night. Men met on the streets at unreasonable hours, suspicious looking characters were in a position to tell the officers that they were going to certain saloons; were they closed they would be without that pretext for prowling around. He asked for a fair expression of opinion.

Councillor Braden thought all the saloons should be closed at a certain hour.

Councillor Ward said a great many of the saloon keepers themselves were opposed to keeping open, particularly after 12 o'clock. He would favor a by-law closing them all at a certain hour.

Councillor Warner and Councillor Earle promised a by-law of that kind their hearty support.

Councillor Teague was in favor of a by-law to that effect, and of giving the police power to go through those places.

Councillor Smith also approved of the proposal, but thought it would be inoperative this year.

Councillor McKillican promised to bring in a by-law bearing on the point at next meeting.

NUISANCES.

From the Sanitary Committee, reporting on a number of nuisances. Held over for one week.

Reports from Sergeant Flewin on the large number of nuisances. The recommendations were ordered to be carried out.

BY-LAWS.

The public light loan by-law on motion of Messrs. Smith and McKillican received its second reading.

The drainage by-law also received its second reading.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Councillor McKillican said it was time the street lighting committee were making some arrangement for additional light, as the season of the year was now at hand when better light was required. The question was left over until next meeting.

Councillor Ward moved that tenders be invited for the erection of the debentures authorized by the two by-laws carried yesterday.

Adjourned.

To Make a Living.

A new paper, to be known as the Tribune, has been launched at Calgary. The publisher says: "We have begun the publication of the Tribune mainly for the purpose of earning a livelihood for ourselves." Most new papers are established "to fill a long felt want." The Calgary Tribune should succeed. It opens with the truth.

ACROSS THE OCEAN.

Marriage of Mlle. Nevada.

Special to THE TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 1.—Madamoiselle Nevada was married to-day to Dr. Raymond Palmer, of Birmingham, England. The civil service took place at the English Embassy, and the religious ceremony at the church of the Passionist Fathers. The bridesmaids were Misses Morris, Johnston, Everest, and Taft, of America. Salvioni the Italian tragedian, was best man. The attendance was large. American, English and Parisian fashionable society was well represented. The occasion was marked by much enthusiasm, and the display of flowers and elegant costumes lent an air of gaiety to the scene.

The whole of the American colony attended the ceremonies. Rev. Father Michael Watts Russell, of Passionist Order, Rector of St. Joseph's Retreat, High Gate Hill, London, delivered an eloquent oration. A strong band furnished the music for the occasion. Miss Laura Moore sang a solo with a harp accompaniment. The wedding breakfast was served at the Hotel Athene.

War May be Inevitable.

Special to THE TIMES.

VIENNA, Oct. 1.—Bratiano, Roumanian Prime Minister, who has had interviews with the Emperor Francis Joseph and Count Kalnosky, Austrian Foreign Minister, respecting the attitude of Roumania in the event of war between Turkey and Bulgaria, has left this city to confer with Prince Bismarck, after which he will visit the Czar. His mission is for the purpose of having Roumania considered inviolable, and accorded rights similar to those enjoyed by Belgium, if hostilities should break out. The opinion gains ground that the crisis is extending, and that unless the powers intervene at once war is inevitable. The Porte is taking precautionary measures to prevent the reduction of supplies in the event of war with Bulgaria, and has issued order prohibiting the exportation of cereals.

Sir Hicks-Beach Speaks.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Conservative leader in the House of Commons, speaking at Salisbury yesterday, said: "The government was attempting, in concert with the powers, to circumscribe the area of the existing Roumelian disorders." Referring to the alarming increase of boycotting in Ireland he said: "The government was preparing to deal with the evil with a strong hand. He believed the Irish people would applaud the action of the government regarding the matter. He denounced Gladstone's manifesto as misleading in its statements concerning occurrences of the past, and in its promises for the future." The speaker said that reports of crime in Ireland were absurdly overdrawn.

Death of Sir James Hudson.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The death is announced to-day of Sir James Hudson, G. C. B., a gentleman who was born when George the Third was king, who recollected his son George the Fourth, and the brother of the latter, England's Sailor King, to whom he acted first as page, and afterwards as private secretary. He was born in 1810, and entered the diplomatic service in 1828. He was secretary of the legation at Washington, the Hague, and Rio Janeiro; he was Minister at Florence and Turin, and for inducing Sardinia to co-operate with England in the Crimean war he was created a K. C. B. in 1855 and on on his retirement from Turin in 1863 he was promoted to a G. C. B. Latterly Sir James has been living in retirement.

The Porte Protests.

Special to THE TIMES.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 1.—The ambassador's meeting to-day to consider the Roumelian question at the house of Count Costi, Italian Ambassador, but adjourned without transacting any business of an important nature. Several of the ambassadors have not yet received formal instructions from their respective governments. The Porte has sent a circular to the powers, protesting against the recent action of Prince Alexander in disarming the Musselman inhabitants of Roumelia.

The Conference Will Fail.

Special to THE TIMES.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 1.—Russian journals express the opinion that the conference will fail, and that the difficulty on the Roumelian difficulty will be irreconcilable.

The Czar has called a meeting of the Governors of various provinces, to be held during the present month, in order to confer with them respecting the internal condition of Russia.

Restraining Influences.

Special to THE TIMES.

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—The result of the recent interview between DeGiers, Russian Prime Minister, and Prince Bismarck, will be to restrain Servia, Greece and Montenegro from attacking Turkey. Otherwise Austria would, it is thought, make a bold strike for Salonica, and possibly for Constantinople, causing a blaze in Russia which would end in a European war.

Preparing for Defense.

Special to THE TIMES.

PHILLIPPOPOLIS, Oct. 1.—Prince Alexander is actively engaged pushing forward measures for defense. Bulgarian troops from Sofia are taking the places of volunteers who have gone to the frontier. All strategetic positions and passes are being greatly strengthened. The Post telegraph tariff of Eastern Roumania has been assimilated with that of North Bulgaria.

Conferring with the Czar.

Special to THE TIMES.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 1.—DeGiers, Russian Foreign Minister, has been conferring with the Czar on the Roumelian difficulty at Fredericksburg village, 21 miles from this city, the usual summer residence of the Danish royal family.

Turkey's Position.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The Times correspondent at Constantinople thus summarizes Turkey's position: Turkey has no army ready to march; no stores; no money in the treasury; no administration; no energy. She must submit to the inevitable.

The Mediterranean Squadron.

Special to THE TIMES.

MALTA, Oct. 1.—The rumor is current that the British squadron in the Mediterranean has been ordered to Turkey.

Will Compensate Servia.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The powers have resolved to compensate Servia if the Porte adopts the union between Bulgaria and Roumelia.

EARL OF SHAFTESBURY.

Death of the Noted Philanthropist and Politician.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The Earl of Shaftesbury is dead.

[Anthony Ashley Cooper, seventh Earl of Shaftesbury, was born in Grosvenor Square, London, April 28, 1801. He represented the borough of Woodstock from 1826 to 1830, County of Dorset from 1831 to 1846, and the City of Bath from 1847 to 1851, when he succeeded to the earldom. Is chiefly known by his attempts to improve the social condition of the laboring classes. He took charge of the Ten Hours Bill, and after a long continued opposition, succeeded in carrying it. This made him extremely popular in the manufacturing districts among the people. Took a very prominent part in connection with various religious, social and philanthropic societies. He belonged to the evangelical party of the Church of England. He followed up the Ten Hours' Bill by obtaining the assent of Parliament to other measures regulating defective workshops and factories, night work, and treatment of children by employers. Honors conferred on him were the Oxford degree of D. C. L. in 1841, and honorary citizenship of Edinburgh in 1878. In politics he was a Liberal-Conservative.]

PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION

An Unqualified Success in Every Respect.

Indignation at Sir Charles Tupper's Slight.

Special to THE TIMES.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 1.—The exhibits were in order early this morning. The judges awards are now nearly finished. The entries are larger than the one held previously here by several hundred. Victoria and Island exhibitors' display is the largest on the ground in horses, cattle, sheep and hogs. Mr. Perrin's Poultry is the best ever seen in the province—makes a clean sweep of all prizes. Tolmie has no competitor. Dairy, in boots and shoes and tanning leather makes an excellent display. All the city exhibitors come out well. In the ladies' class the principal exhibitors are Mrs. Shakespeare, Mrs. A. Douglas, Miss McCandlish. In roots vegetables, grain and dairy products, the mainland excels. The weather is delightfully fine and the city is full of visitors. The hotels are crowded.

There is an intense feeling of indignation at Tupper's slight to the province in not visiting the exhibition. The matter will not be forgotten. Surmises are numerous as to the cause. He reaches Coal Harbor at 10 to-morrow and declines coming via here to Port Moody. The people are also very hostile at the intimation that the Governor-General is not to call here en route to Victoria.

The election of officers will take place to-night. Mr. N. Shakespeare, M. P., will be the next president, and the next show will be held in Victoria.

HALIFAX, Sept. 23.—Information has been received that the grand jury of the Antwerp International Exhibition have awarded a gold medal to the government of Nova Scotia for its exhibit of an obelisk representing the gold product of the province, and for specimens of gold-bearing quartz from Nova Scotia mines. The quartz specimens were from the New Albion company's mines at Montague.

Public Lighting.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—Councillor McKillican's motion that the street lighting committee report the best methods of re-distributing or extending the present system of lighting the city was defeated by a motion made by Mr. Earle to leave the matter in the hands of the present Electric Light company. The council having adopted the electric light plant at a price far above its cost, and which in case of extension will require almost a renewal of machinery to render it effective, might for prudential and economical reasons prevent the perpetration of another job of the character by calling for tenders, and honestly adopting the best proposal placed before them. As it is a well known fact that the ratepayers have been and are suffering from the effect of having adopted the present plant in the interest of certain individuals more than that of the city. As a citizen and ratepayer, I feel interested in the denouement of the

Dr. Holmes was 76 years old on August 29th. Lord Houghton was 76 last June. Poe would have been 76 this year, had he lived, and so would Mrs Browning. This year, too, is Tennyson's 76th. If the Laureate and the Autocrat begin to feel old—the latter can never be old, no matter how he may feel—let them look at their brother poet, Sir Henry Taylor, who was in his 10th year, when they were first laid in their cradles, and is now in his 80th.

Milwaukee has just celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of its birth. It was settled in 1833, though not incorporated as a city till 1846. But its growth is half a century and present vigor are attested in its ability annually to consume 180,000 barrels of its own lager beer.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

MR. THOMAS MCGREEVY, M. P., for Quebec West, has been called to the Senate in the place of MR. CHAPAIS.

THE Canadian Pacific Railway Co. will shortly call for tenders for the construction of a new steel and iron bridge across the St. Lawrence, near Lachine. It will give Ontario a third rail route to the seaboard.

ACCORDING to a French blue book recently issued the Tonquin war has cost France 15,000 lives and about $200,000,000. What she has gained in return for this expenditure seems to be one of those things that no fellow can find out.

THE transference of the North Shore Railway to the Canadian Pacific has been officially announced. The charges upon the property taken over comprise the debt due the government, $3,500; the bonds outstanding, $1,750,000, and some half-million dollars for common stock and investments in the road by the late proprietors.

THE fact that all the clergymen of the Church of England refused to appear on the platform with ARCH DEACON FARRAR when he lectured in Montreal because he spoke in a Presbyterian Church, is unfavorably commented on by the other denominations. Of Christian charity some of those so-called followers of the meek and lowly Jesus have about as much as ordinary sinners.

SIR WATKIN WILLIAMS WYNN, Bart, speaking at a temperance demonstration in Wynnstay Park, deprecated the attempt to make men sober by act of parliament. The only way to restrain men from drunkenness was by setting them a good example and trying to persuade them not to drink. He looked upon the Welsh Sunday Closing Act as a piece of mischievous class legislation. It was useless trying to draw a hard and fast line in such matters. If men were determined to have drink they would get it, in spite of legislation.

OUR morning contemporary, the Standard, also calls attention to the infamously false press reports sent from Victoria by the agent, who is well known. The Standard quotes the item about the "horse-whipping," and says it contains scarcely a particle of truth. The associated press will have to change its agent here; otherwise the public at home and abroad will disbelieve every scrap of information that is sent from Victoria. An evil-disposed person, placed in a position of responsibility as a purveyor of news, can do a city and its people irretrievable injury. David, the Untruthful, is unfitted by nature for the position.

THE Tacoma News: We hope to see the railroad (the C. P. R.) completed as soon as it is anticipated it will be. The more railroads that tap Puget Sound — be they built on foreign soil or on our own domain — the better it is for this country. The sooner we get competition the better it will be for the people. It is fortunate that we are so situated geographically that we are accessible to our neighbors' transcontinental road, for we think that the management of this road will not be likely to pool with the transcontinental roads on this side of the line. British Columbia is not big enough to hold all the sturdy yeomanry which that road will bring to this coast to settle here and Puget Sound will feel their influx and rejoice to welcome them.

WHEN in Kincardineshire, Scotland, lately, MR. W. E. GLADSTONE was the guest of his elder brother, SIR THOMAS GLADSTONE, Bart, of Fasque, who, with his wife, rendered the visit specially interesting by the celebration of their golden wedding. Unlike his brother, who began life as a Tory, but soon saw the error of his ways, and has kept in the front rank of Liberalism ever since, SIR THOMAS has persistently refused to "budge," resisting every reform that has come up for settlement, as far as in his power lay. It must be with peculiar feelings that he now looks on the extension of the franchise so as to embrace even his agricultural laborers; and ruminates on the fact that the day when the squire's word was law has reached its eleventh hour. For many years the county in which SIR THOMAS is a territorial magnate was a Tory stronghold; but of late the Liberals have carried the constituency with large majorities. Under the revised voters' list the majority is likely to be greater than ever.

CLOSING THE SALOONS.

At the City Council last night, Councillor MCKILLICAN submitted the question of closing the saloons at a reasonable hour every night, as a help to the police in preserving the public peace at a time when suspicious characters were flocking to Victoria in large numbers. MR. MCKILLICAN'S object was to get an expression of opinion, and if it proved favorable he promised to introduce a by-law requiring saloon keepers to close their places at a stipulated hour. Every Councillor present approved of the idea, and at next meeting a by-law will be introduced, the hour of closing being fixed probably at 12 o'clock. Few of the saloon keepers will object to this proposition. Most of them close at a reasonably early hour, but very many are open all night. The fact that they are open is an excuse for lawless characters to parade the streets at all hours. Thieves congregate at night time and pursue their nefarious work under cover of darkness. Everything that can be done to stamp out this and other evils from which our city suffers will meet with the approbation of all good citizens. The gentlemen engaged in the trade, after a fair trial of the 12 o'clock closing system, will prefer it, as they will find it not only pleasanter in every way, but decidedly more remunerative in the long run. Public opinion generally will approve of the course about to be taken, which, if strictly followed, will prove a moral, physical and financial gain to all concerned.

THE ELECTRIC WIRES.

A few days since reference was made in these columns to the projectors of the Atlantic cable and the progress made since its inception on telegraph construction. It is now ascertained that the United States outranks the world as far as the telegraph is concerned, both as to extent of wire and number of messages sent. Last year there were 65,000,000 messages sent in that country to 32,000,000 in Great Britain, 18,000,000 in Germany and 12,000,000 in France. Russia sends about 10,000,000 of telegrams a year, Switzerland 2,000,000, Spain 3,000,000, Turkey a little over 1,000,000, Belgium, 6,000,000, and Austria 9,000,000. Mexico has 400 telegraph offices, and it sends about 750,000 telegrams a year. Japan has 125 offices, and sends nearly 3,000,000 telegrams a year. It is a characteristic fact, showing the progress of the two nations, that the Japanese with a smaller territory and a much less population sends three times as many messages as China. Telegraphs in the United States do more business, make more money, and are more extensively used by the people than anywhere else in the world. With sixty-five million telegrams sent last year, there were 15,000 telegraph offices and 154,640 miles of lines. The mileage is larger to-day than then, and the wires are more generally used. Of these messages the average cost per message of those sent by the Western Union was 30.9 cents, and the average profit per message was 15.6 cents. In 1868 the Western Union had about one-fifth of present mileage, and its charge per message was on the average over twice as great. At that time it made a profit of forty one cents per message. In 1884 the Western Union had 145,000 miles of line, and 450,000 miles of wire. It sent more than 42,000,000 messages and took in nearly $20,000,000 in receipts. The Western Union is capitalized at $80,000,000. The Baltimore & Ohio telegraph has been largely increasing its mileage during the present year, and it has greatly reduced the rates of telegraphing to certain points. Last year it had 29,000 miles of wire, now it has more than 50,000 miles. It competes with the Western Union, and at conventions and on such occasions as the GRANT funeral it does a great deal of the sending out of telegrams to newspapers. The Mutual Union telegraph now belongs to the Western Union. It has a capital stock of $10,000,000 and 60,000 miles of wire. The Bankers' & Merchants' Telegraph company has a capital of $3,000,000, a debt of more than $7,000,000 and about 28,000 miles of wire. The above estimates of telegraph lines in this country refer to those open only to public business. Those used for private purposes, the railways and for telephone use are over and above these. Speaking of telephones, they are growing almost as fast as figures can be made to estimate their length. On the 1st of January, 1884, the BELL Telephone company had in use 240,000 telephones, and there were then nearly a thousand telephone exchanges. Besides these, the BELL company has 5000 telephones in Canada, and the mileage of wire in the United States used for telephones was estimated a year ago at 120,000 miles.

THERE was some disgusting snobbery in connection with the "drawing room" held by LORD LANSDOWNE at Winnipeg that it will be wise to guard against in Victoria. For essential days prior to the event an advertisement appeared in the local papers intimating to all who desired to attend that certain distinguished personages with their wives and daughters would be admitted by the front door, and that the "lower orders" should enter by another door, practically a back door. Naturally this gave offence to all who, according to Local Government House etiquette, were not up to the front door standard, and they promptly proved their fitness to enter by the front door by remaining at home. For this offensive regulation the Governor-General was, of course, in no way responsible. LORD LANSDOWNE, since taking up his residence in Canada, has, while maintaining his own dignity, always been courteous to others.

THE BEST
Hair restorative in the world is HALL'S HAIR RENEWER. It cures all diseases of the scalp, and stimulates the hair glands to healthful action. It stops the falling of the hair; prevents its turning gray; cures baldness, and restores youthful color and freshness of appearance to heads already white with age. The following are a few illustrations of what is done by

HALL'S
Vegetable Sicilian
HAIR RENEWER.

☞ MRS. BUNSENBURY, 344 Franklin Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a severe attack of Erysipelas in the head, found her hair entirely gray—falling off so rapidly that she soon became quite bald. One bottle of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER brought it back as soft, brown and thick as when she was a girl.

☞ MR. RESTER, an old farmer, near Worcester, Mass., had scarcely any hair left, and what little otherwise of it had become nearly white. One bottle of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER stopped its falling out, and gave him a thick, luxuriant head of hair, as brown and fresh as he ever had.

☞ MRS. A. T. WALL, Greenfield, Cheshire, Eng., writes: "I have found the greatest benefit from the use of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER. It having restored my hair, which was rapidly falling off, and returned its original color."

☞ DR. EMIL SEIP, Detroit, Mich., certifies that "HALL'S HAIR RENEWER is excellent for hair growing, and gives back the natural color to faded and gray hair."

☞ MRS. S. E. ELLIOTT, Glenville, W. Va., says: "One bottle of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER restored my hair to its natural, youthful color."

No injurious substances enter into the composition of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER, and it is not a dye. Its vegetable ingredients render it in the highest degree beneficial to the scalp as a preventive of disease. Its effects are natural and lasting, and it does not make the hair dry and brashy, like the so-called restoratives compounded with alcohol.

Buckingham's Dye
FOR THE WHISKERS
Is, in four respects, superior to all others;
1st—It is the best.
2d—It will produce a PERFECT natural color, brown or black, as desired.
3d—The color so produced is permanent, cannot be washed off, and will not soil anything with which it comes in contact.
4th—It is a single preparation, and more convenient of application than any other hair or whisker dye.
5th—It contains no deleterious ingredients, as do many preparations offered for like use.

King Tye Company.

With reference to the special notice in to-day's Colonist signed King Tye & Co., I would beg to inform the trade and public generally that I was not, as stated, discharged from business connected with that firm.
In May, 1884, I became manager in this firm and up to yesterday, when I tendered my resignation. It is easy to see that all transactions made by me personally, or under my signature as representative of the firm, must be valid, and for which King Tye Co. are responsible.
The sole cause of my resignation was a disagreement with my only resident partner.

IN LUCK AT LAST

BY WALTER BESANT.

CHAPTER III.—(Continued.)

"It is hard, is it not, to lose a friend so slowly acquired, thus suddenly and unexpectedly?"

"Yes," she said, "it is hard. I am very sorry. It was my fault."

"Perhaps I have said something, in my ignorance—something which ought not to have been said or written—something careless—something which has lowered me in your esteem——"

"Oh, no—no!" said Iris quickly. "You have never said anything that a gentleman should not have said."

"And if you yourself found any pleasure in answering my letters——"

"Yes," said Iris with frankness, "it gave me great pleasure to read and to answer your letters as well as I could."

"I have not brought back your letters. I hope you will allow me to keep them. And, if you will, why should we not continue our correspondence as before?"

But he did not ask the question confidently.

"No," said Iris decidedly; "it can never be continued as before. How could it, when once we have met and you have learned the truth?"

"Then," he continued, "if we cannot write to each other any more, can we not talk?"

She ought to have informed him on the spot that the thing was quite impossible, and not to be thought of for one moment. She should have said coldly, but firmly—every right-minded and well-behaved girl would have said, "Sir, it is not right that you should come alone to a young lady's study. Such things are not to be permitted. If we meet in society, we may, perhaps, renew our acquaintance."

But girls do go on sometimes as if there was no such thing as propriety at all, and such cases are said to be growing more frequent. Besides, Iris was not a girl who was conversant with social convenances. She looked at her pupil thoughtfully and frankly.

"Can we?" she asked. She who hesitates is lost—a maxim which cannot be too often read, said and studied. It is one of the very few golden rules omitted from Solomon's Proverbs. "Can we? It would be pleasant."

"If you will permit me," he blushed and stammered, wondering at her ready acquiescence; "if you will permit me to call upon you sometimes—here, if you will allow me, or anywhere else. You know my name. I am by profession an artist, and I have a studio close at hand in Tite street."

"To call upon me here?" she repeated.

Now, when one is a tutor and has been reading with a pupil for two years one regards that pupil with a feeling which may not be exactly parental, but which is unconvent-onal. As Armid had said, "Behold in I May I, being a young man, call upon you, a young woman?" she would have replied: "No, young man, that can never be." But when he said, "May I, your pupil, call sometimes upon you, my tutor?" a distinction was at once established by which the Impossible became possible.

"Yes," she said, "I think you may call. My grandfather has his tea with me every evening at six. You may call then if it will give you any pleasure."

"You really will let me come here?"

The young man looked as if the permission was likely to give him the greatest pleasure.

"Yes; if you wish it."

She spoke just exactly like an Oxford Don giving an undergraduate permission to take an occasional walk with him, or to call for conversation and advice at certain times in his rooms. Arnold noticed the manner, and smiled.

"Still," he said, "as your pupil"

He meant to set her at her ease concerning the propriety of their visits. She thought he meant a continuation of a certain little arrangement as to fees, and blushed.

"No," she said; "I must not consider you as a pupil any longer. You have put an end to that yourself."

"I do not mind, if only I continue your friend."

"Oh," she said, "but we must not pledge ourselves rashly to friendship. Perhaps you will not like me when you once come to know me."

"Then I remain your disciple."

"Oh, no," she flushed again, "you must already think me presumptuous enough in presuming to give you advice. I have written so many foolish things——"

"Indeed, no," he interrupted; "a thousand times no. Let me tell you once for all, if I may, that you have taught me a great deal—far more than you can ever understand, or than I can explain. Where did you get your wisdom? Not from the Book of Human Life. Of that you cannot know much as yet."

"The wisdom is in your imagination, I think. You shall not be my pupil, nor my disciple, but—well—because you have told me so much, and I seem to have known you so long, and besides, because you must never feel ashamed of having told me so much, you shall come, if you please, as my brother."

It was not till after words that she reflected on the vast responsibilities she incurred in making this proposal, and on the eagerness with which her pupil accepted it.

"As your brother!" he cried, offering her his hand. "Why, it is far—far more than I could have ventured to hope. Yes, I will come as your brother. And now, although you know so much about me, you have told me nothing about yourself—not even your name."

"My name is Iris Aglen."

"I—I think it is a pretty name."

"It was, I believe, my grandmother's. Do I never see her, and I do not know who or what my father's relatives are."

"Iris Aglen!" he repeated. "Iris was the Herald of the Gods, and the rainbow was constructed on purpose to serve her for a way from heaven to the earth."

"Mathematicians do not allow that," said the girl, smiling.

"I don't know any mathematics. But now I understand in what school you learned your heraldry. You are Queen-at-Arms, at least, and Herald to the Gods of Olympus."

He wished to add something about the loveliness of Aphrodite and the wisdom of Athene, but he refrained, which was in good taste.

"Thank you, Mr. Arbuthnot," Iris replied. "I learned my heraldry of my grandfather, who taught himself from the books he says. And my mathematics I learned from——"

[illegible] and my mother as well—and I [illegible] in the world except them and [illegible] who love me and have done their best to spoil me."

Her eyes grew humid and her voice trembled.

No other friends in the world! Strange to say, this young man felt a little sense of relief. No other friends. He ought to have sympathised with the girl's loneliness; he might have asked her how she could possibly endure life without companionship, but he did not; he only felt that other friends might have been rough and ill-bred; this girl derived her refinement, not only from nature, but also from separation from the other girls who might in the ordinary course have been her friends and associates. And if no other friends, then no lover. Arnold was only going to visit the young lady as her brother; but lovers do not generally approve the introduction of such moral effects as that caused by the appearance of a brand-new and previously unsuspected brother. He was glad, on the whole, that there was no lover.

Then he left her and went home to his studio, where he sat till midnight sketching a thousand heads one after the other with rapid pencil. They were all girls' heads, and they all had hair parted on the left side with a broad, square forehead, full eyes, and straight, clear-cut features.

"No," he said, "it is no good. I cannot catch the curve of her mouth—nobody could. What a pretty girl! And I am to be her brother! What will Clara say? And how—oh, how in the world can she be, all at the same time, so young, so pretty, so learned, so quick, so sympathetic and so wise?"

A Bedlam in the Cities—Birds and Beasts—Tam-Tam, Drum and Banjo.

[Bombay Cor. New York Sun.]

Nothing is done in India without noise, and in the cities it is perfectly appalling. The roar, the howl, the chatter, the rush, the bustle are mingled so intimately that you feel that you are intruding on Bedlam. You can scarcely hear yourself speak sometimes, and you look on the hubbub with fear and trembling, finding no occasion for the uproar. A congregation of natives is worse than any swarm of Italians, and as one sees the frantic gesticulations, the imagination is of a violent quarrel rather than of the amicable bawling that the scene really is. What are they talking about? Money or women—nothing else commanding such a chorus. The tones are shrill and the delivery is rapid, the "O!" "O!" of the vocative case being the invariable form of speech.

As I am riding—

"Oh, Khud, a cow!" exclaims one jumpanny.

"Oh, Hawati, it is Sir Hyder's cow!" answers Khud. "Oh, Khud, it is a 10-rupee cow!" pipes Lak. "Oh, Khud, and Oh, Lak, I wish I had its milk!" chimes in Dargher Ali. And so of everything they see. When I order a halt the four chorus shrilly:

"Oh, Mem Sahib, we stop!" Or, if it is to proceed, "Oh, Mem Sahib, we go!"

They never whistle as they go, and laughter is never heard.

As I ride I listen not alone to the irritating hum of musquitoes that are not exclusively Indian, but, if it is not too dry, to the loud call of bullfrogs that would do credit to any New Jersey swamp. If it is dry weather, the frogs' notes are replaced by the monotonous drone and creak of the wells. All day long the Hindoo pigeon sends forth its booming notes from the woods; the kites cry long and piercingly, and the kasturs, or Indian blackbird, is almost the only singing bird. The minas chatter among the hills, and the ever-present crow is perpetually cawing every where around us. A tiny owl, about as large as a robin, mourns plaintively just at dusk. Tree toads hiss, and rats and chirp. Jackals growl at night, and occasionally the hyena may be heard.

So much for the natural sounds. There are some artificial ones equally familiar, such as the note of the tam-tam, which is always being beaten, and that of the shepherd's pipes, which are very like Scotch bagpipes, and give forth a sweet, weird sound. The Brahmins produce a frightful noise by blowing the sacred shell, called a sunk, a blast that is held to exorcise the evil spirits. The women sing some wild and plaintive notes in a minor key, the accompaniment being performed on a small goatskin drum. And there are trumpets, one more a thing of brass, some four feet long, on which a man will blow some of the most excruciating blasts. There are also little silver-plated ones that squeal like young pigs.

The most agreeable music that is heard in India is that of the banjo. But a Hindoo banjo is not like one of ours. The lower part of the instrument is made of a section of gourd that resembles a deep, flat drum, open at one end. There are four strings two passed through blue glass beads, and the other two raised by cowries. The notes produced are very pleasant. The vocal music is the dreary chanting of the professional singers in the Hindoo temples. It is monotonous, but it is worth hearing. The singers spoil it, though, when they read aloud their holy books in their grating, sing-song gabble-along-some-how way.

Artificial Ball Lightning.

[Scientific Miscellany.]

One of the most remarkable of electrical manifestations is that known as globular or ball lightning, which is so rare that physicists have had little or no opportunity of studying it. A similar phenomenon, however, has been produced in the laboratory on a small scale. It has been caused accidentally on various occasions, and, on having a piece of apparatus destroyed, by one of the discharges, M. Planté, the well-known French electrician, has been led to experiments in which a successful imitation of ball lightning has evidently been obtained. With a powerful current from secondary batteries he has produced in an air condenser, formed of two moistened pieces of filter paper placed near together, a small incandescent globule, lasting some minutes and moving slowly in a curious and most erratic path. When a condenser was employed in which the insulating material was ebonite, a sound was emitted like that of a toothed wheel rapidly rotated against a piece of cardboard.

Spanning from Italy to Sicily.

[Boston Transcript.]

The project of a tunnel under the straits of Messina, to connect Sicily with Italy is an enterprise which has long received the attention of engineers, and been recommended by scientific experts. Recently, however, a Piedmontese company has come forward with a counter project for a bridge, an enterprise which, it is remarked, will, if ever carried out, constitute as remarkable a work of the kind as there is in the world. According to the published statement, the width of the strait, at its narrowest point, is about two miles, but owing to the great depth of the water—more than 500 fathoms this line the projectors propose to locate the bridge where it would have a length of about two miles and a half.

The plan of this gigantic structure involves four piers, connected by spans of five-eighths of a mile in length, the two shore spans having half the span of the three central ones.

Facts of Interest.

The use of alcoholic drinks in Great Britain is steadily diminishing.

If a wall is torn down in Vera Cruz, Mexico, yellow fever appears. This fever is a legacy from the old slave trade. Slave ships produced it.

The latest great group of oil wells in Pennsylvania is dying out. The flow of petroleum is rapidly diminishing. The region is called the Thorn creek oil field. Last year it produced 2,000,000 barrels.

Eider down is stolen from the nest of the eider duck. The bird plucks the down from her breast to line her nest, and the down will keep its young ones warm. Then man steals it and sells it to make quilts to keep people warm.

As a test of sight reading, an original hymn, which had not been seen by the children until just previous to singing, when it was distributed to them in sealed envelopes, was sung at a recent musical festival in Providence by a chorus of 1,050 voices, composed of pupils of the grammar schools of that city.

The use of natural gas has become so universal in the foundries, factories, breweries, etc., of Pittsburg, Pa., that a saving of nearly 40,000,000 bushels of coal annually will be effected, in fact a great industrial change has been wrought, by which thousands of men employed in coal mining will be thrown out of work and compelled to seek other employment.

Not To-Night.

No, mother, your boy is not wandering to-night. He sits in the parlor glued to the old arm-chair and Belinda's lips, while the old man vainly labors to hear him wooden.

Questions Answered.

Ask the most eminent physician

Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always

And they will tell you unhesitatingly

"Some form of Hops!!!"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all of the most eminent physicians:

"What is the only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women."

"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically, "Buchu!!!"

Ask the same physicians

What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague, &c.," and they will tell you

Mandrake! or Dandelion!!!!

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed, which is varied in its operations that no disease or ill health can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is Singular for the most frail woman, weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

GRAND

Colonial Exhibition!

IN LONDON, ENGLAND, 1886.

Fifty-four Thousand Feet Reserved for Canada.

First Royal Exhibition Commission since 1862.

THE Colonial and Indian Exhibition to be held in London, England, commencing May 1st, 1886, is intended to be on a scale of great magnitude, having for object to mark progress in the relations of all the parts of the British Empire with each other.

In order to give becoming significance to the event a Royal Commission is issued for the holding of this Exhibition, for the first time since 1862, and the Prince of Wales has been appointed President by Her Majesty.

The very large space of 14,000 square feet has been allotted to the Dominion of Canada by command of the President, His Royal Highness.

This Exhibition is to be purely Colonial and Indian, and no competition from the United Kingdom or from foreign nations will be permitted, the object being to exhibit to the world at large what the Colonies can do!

The grandest opportunity ever offered to Canada is thus afforded to show the distinguished place she occupies, by the progress she has made in AGRICULTURE, in HORTICULTURE, in the MANUFACTURES and ARTS to the MANUFACTURES OF MACHINERY, MECHANICS and INVENTIONS, in FOREST WORKS by MODELS and DESIGNS, also in an adequate display of her vast resources in the PRODUCTS, and the FORCES and WEALTH, wealth, and also in SHIPPING.

All Descriptions of all parties and classes are invited to come forward and vie with each other in contributing on this great occasion to the success of the Exhibition, to the prosperity of the British Empire, and to establish her proper position before the world.

Every Farmer, every producer, and every manufacturer is urged to send exhibits, and to take all steps necessary to secure that branches of trade always follow such efforts.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

While the TIMES is always prepared to give publicity to the views of correspondents on any question of interest to the public, provided facts are given, couched in excellent readable language, we wish it to be understood that we do not hold ourselves responsible for the views expressed by the writers thereof.

Nor can we give room to duplicates of letters that have appeared in our contemporaries either in this city or elsewhere in the province. Correspondents, therefore, will save time at both ends in preparing such for THE TIMES, as they will be rejected.

Our space is valuable, and brevity, as far as possible, should be observed in writing on any topic, and on ONE SIDE of the sheet only.

—Operations were commenced to-day to add an additional storey to Messrs. Marvin & Tilton's warehouse, corner of Wharf and Bastion streets.

—The long dry season has been a blessing to the farmers of the North Arm. The grain, although scarcely up to the average yield, has never been equalled in quality.

—Hibbs, who has arrived in Lewiston, Idaho, had a preliminary hearing on Wednesday before Deputy U.S. Attorney Maxwell. Mr. Tenton, of Yamhill, Or., is engaged to conduct the defense.

—We have it on excellent authority—that of the doctor in attendance—that Mr. George Etheridge, who was incorrectly reported as suffering from typhoid fever, is not ill with that disease. We are glad to make the correction, and hope soon to see Mr. Etheridge around again.

—A few friends of Mrs. McLean, the Misses McLean and Mr. James McLean met at her residence last night to spend a farewell evening before their leaving for San Francisco on Friday. A very pleasant evening was spent. Regret was expressed by all at parting with such esteemed friends. During their short stay in Victoria they made many friends, who will miss the happy hours so often spent in their society.

Theater Comique

Marguerite was presented to a fair house last night in a very acceptible style. The play is an emotional comedy and full of pleasing, stirring and laughable incidents. Those present were not disappointed. To-night is the last appearance of the company, when "Only a Farmer's Daughter" will be again produced.

H. M. S. Constance was detained at San Francisco several days awaiting orders. These have been received and she has left for Honykong via Panama and Honolulu. The crew will be sent home from there on the troopship Orontes, while the Constance will undergo a thorough overhauling.

Sufferers from the effects of quinine, should appreciate Ayer's Ague Cure, a powerful tonic bitter, composed wholly of vegetable substances, without a particle of any noxious drug. Its action is peculiar, prompt, and powerful, breaking up the chill, curing the fever, and expelling the poison from the system, yet leaving no harmful or unpleasant effect upon the patient.

My daughter has taken the medicine faithfully, according to directions, and her health and spirits are now perfect. The tumor is all gone from her face. I wish every anxious mother might know what a blessing Ayer's Sarsaparilla is in such cases.

OUR CITY'S DISGRACE.

Frightful Filth and Reeking Abominations of Chinatown.

Victims of Leprosy in its Most Hideous Forms.

A Terrible Warning to our People to Purge the City.

At the meeting of the City Council last night, the Sanitary Committee presented the following report. We publish it in full because it is official, and coming from three prominent citizens it will probably have more weight than anything that a newspaper reporter could prepare on the subject. Every citizen should read it carefully, because all are alike interested.

VICTORIA, 23rd Sept., 1885.

TO HIS WORSHIP THE MAYOR, AND COUNCIL FOR THE CITY OF VICTORIA:

GENTLEMEN,—The members of the Sanitary Committee have the honor to report that after investigating the charge brought against the owner of the property situate at the corner of Johnson and Quadra streets, they find it to be true, not only in his case, but in that of others in the immediate vicinity, who are using pits instead of earth closets as provided by law, and strongly recommend that a general notice be served on all persons to abate the nuisance within a reasonable date, or to be dealt with summarily, according to the provisions of the act.

Your committee are also of the opinion that if the present sanitary laws are enforced, much of the sickness complained of will be averted. In the course of investigation your committee have visited various parts of the city, but have chiefly confined their duties to such portions as required immediate attention, prominent amongst which are what are commonly known as Chinese and Indian quarters.

We find the Chinese being in tenements over privys, seldom or never cleaned out, which, together with other filth accumulated in such loostions, renders the place almost indescribable, and cannot fail, in a humid atmosphere, to prove the origin and distributor of pestilence and death.

We have also to report the presence of leprosy in its most appalling form, and in one instance were confronted with one unfortunate Chinaman whose feet were rotted off with leprosy, and other portions affected to a greater or less extent; the sinews of his arm being contracted and rapidly approaching the same condition of rotteness as his feet. In a hovel adjoining the miserable creature, we found a privy overflowing with filth under the flooring of adjoining tenements, which is used by the whole of the surrounding neighborhood, the stench from which is almost unbearable, and demands immediate attention. Pursuing our researches we found another case of leprosy, consisting of a Chinaman who had been frequently arrested for vagrancy, and, although suffering from the loathsome disease, had been allowed to mingle with fellow prisoners in jail and the community at large.

We would also respectfully refer to a number of tenement houses, or shanties erected over and in the vicinity of many of the filthy places referred to in our report and cannot too forcibly urge the pulling down and removal of such places as early as possible. Rotten structures standing on ground deeply saturated with the most abominable filth cannot fail but originate every specie of malarial disease.

We also find that many of the street gutters have become so deep from constant cleaning that they are only mudholes for the reception of all kind of filth and sedimentary matter, and would strongly recommend that wooden gutters be placed where most needed without delay.

We have also much pleasure in stating that in the course of the investigation we have met with many instances of Sergt. Flewin's efficiency, inasmuch as in accordance with his varied duties as Police, Detective and Sanitary Officer, he has succeeded in abating many nuisances with which the Council were heretofore unacquainted, without the aid of litigation or summary treatment, and we feel it to be our duty to recognize the duties performed by him while in that capacity.

And, farther, taking into consideration the rapid growth of the city, and the importance of enforcing sanitary laws, we would respectfully suggest that Sergeant Flewin be instructed to attend to the special duties of Police Sergeant; for which he is well qualified, and that a Sanitary Officer be appointed, with extended powers, to enforce the observance of sanitary laws and abate nuisances of whatever kind; also to furnish weekly reports to the Council and do all other matters and things appertaining to his office.

JOHN BRADEN,
O. WARNER,
A. J. SMITH.

In addressing the council on the adoption of the report, Councillor Braden gave some additional particulars. He had reason to know, he said, that one of the victims of leprosy was in constant communication with a friend, employed in a white family from whom he received medicines and other things that he was in need of. The free and promiscuous way in which Chinese servants intermingled with their diseased companions was a constant source of danger. Fresh germs of disease were daily carried from the most filthy quarter of Chinatown to the best houses in Victoria, and the only wonder was that it did not more generally take root and break out in an epidemic of disease.

But now that the sanitary committee has reported, and their report has been adopted, "what will be done?" Possibly little or nothing! Reports have been made time and again in the past; the newspapers have sounded the alarm until they have grown tired of reiterating the old story to an unbelieving people—and nothing has been done. Very probably the report will be pigeon-holed, or the "recommendations ordered to be carried out," and that is the last that will ever be heard of it. A scourge such as is now decimating Montreal might arouse our people to action, but a few cases of leprosy more or less, is "a matter of no consequence." Wait till the steed is stolen and then our people will lock the door. Possibly we will not have very long to wait.

The Alexander left this morning at 7 o'clock for Chemainus, having on board Sir Charles Tupper, Hon. Wm. Smithe, Hon. J. W. Trutch, Mr. Andrew Robertson, C. G. Townshend, M. P., C. Schreiber, C. E., R. Dunsmuir, M. P. P., D. Pottinger, Mr. Stuart Tupper, Col. F. Bond, Mr. Wm. Angus, J. R. Beophy, C. E., and Jos. Hunter, C. E. The party will take a train on the Island railway to the end of track, 17 miles, and thence will drive to Nanaimo, nine miles, in carriages. They will remain at Nanaimo all night, and on Friday morning will proceed to Port Moody. It is doubtful that Sir Charles will go to New Westminster. The gentlemen from the east will then start on their return journey over the C. P. R.

The Base Ball Championship.

A crowd of 10,000 people witnessed the game at Chicago on Tuesday last for possession of the national penuant, between the New York and Chicago ball clubs. The game abounded in some very remarkable episodes and was played "for blood" on both sides. There was only one fielding error, and it did not affect the result, which was: New York, 4; Chicago, 7. The latter are now the champions of the world.

A Rare Opportunity.

Dr. Minthe, of San Francisco, who is admitted to be the most successful specialist on the Pacific Coast, is now represented in this city. The rooms of the doctor are at the Oriental hotel, where consultation may be had free.
